REMARRIAGE OF DIVORCEES AN ISSUE Matter is Debated at Length in the London Diocesan Council, Which Decides Against Such Marriages.

LONDON, June 19 .- (Special Cablegram to The Bee.)-The decision of the London diocesan conference that no divorced person, whether guilty or innocent, shall be remarried in an Anglican church during the lifetime of the other party in the suit, into direct conflict with the state. It also threatens to be fruitful of dissension within the church itself and to be a powerful weapon in the hands of the party of disestablishment.

Rev. Prebendary Villiers in an interview upon the subject said: "The one question for churchmen is:

reorganized, though no attempt has been made to assimilate it to that of a British district, the smallest of which is scarcely equal in size. In 1901 Dholpur was heavily in debt; in March, 1905, the debt had been cleared off, and the young chief on his accession found in his treasury a substantial cash balance, equivalent to his total revenue for four months. The administration of justice has been set on a sound footing and the arrears of cases cleared off; the army, which three years ago was a useless if picturesque rab ble, has by the tactful exertions of a member of the ruling family been reduced to a smaller and more efficient force. The departments of administrations and accounts have been reduced to order and their staff, purged of useless hangers-on of the offices, has been improved, while at the same time a smaller, better adjusted expenditure on threatens to bring the Church of England salaries offers to the employes a proper scale of pay, with reasonable prospects of advancement. Education, sanitation and police have received attention; yet money has been found available for an expenditure on public works fifteen times as great as the paltry $10,000 a year, which was all that was spent in 1901. This satisfactory record of reform has been attained through native agency, under the supervision of the European superintendent. It now remains to be seen whether the efforts which have gave expression to an important opinion been made to train the newly installed ruler in his new duties have been equally ing words: "The law of the Church of successful or whether the state is destined rajah enters on his new duties with every

> Powerful Forces for Peace. Despite the friction and the possibilities for friction which are constantly and coninually springing up, there are powerful forces and factors whch make for the peace of southeastern Europe. To say nothing of the emperor, who has long been the mainstays of European peace, there is Count Agenor Goluchowski, the tenth anniversary of whose accession to the head of the Austro-Hungarian Foreign office has just been celebrated. Count Goluchowski and his imperial and royal master have one leading trait in commonoffers. The Austro-Russian agreement of 1897, of which the work of reform in Macedonia and the maintenance of peace in the Balkans are direct consequences; the Austro-Italian understanding concerning Albania; the broad reading of the triple alliance and the demonstration that its existence is compatible with good relations toward other countries, and the successful FINDS HIMSELF A NOBLEMAN preservation of the position of Austro-Hungary as a great power in spite of in ternal troubles and dissensions, are friuts of the harmonious collaboration of the Emperor Francis Joseph and his foremost adviser. BULLETIN.

TOK1O, June 18.-6 p. m.-Japan has agreed to President Rooseveit's suggestion to appoint plenipotentiaries to meet Russian pienipotentiaries.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10 -- Japan's acceptance of the president's "offer of good will" has reached the State department in a cablegram from Minister Griscom. Russia's reply followed later, but not in time to be deciphered tonight. It is expested both will be made public tomorrow. Japan's acceptance reached the State department several hours ahead of Russia's reply. Had the cablegram from Ambassador Meyer reached here before the department "closed there is a strong probability that both would have been made public today. No word regarding their character can be obtained beyond the important fact that both are acceptances and both express the gratitude of the respective governments for the president's ffer of good will,

An interesting fact regarding the negotiations of the last week is the powerful influence brought to bear upon Russia by France to accept the offer of the president o discuss peace with representatives of Japan. M. Jusserand, French ambassador, was informed by the president of every move and has kept Paris thoroughly in touch with the president's activity. Loyal support from Paris has been given the president's efforts from the first.

Paris is Russia's Choice.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 10.-12.35 a. m .-Paris is Russia's choice for the opening of peace negotiations. If Japan insists upon Manchuria or Washington, Russia doubtless will agree, but Paris is preferred and the emperor already is prepared to issue instructions to M. Nelidoff, the ambassador to France, to act as pienipotentiary to receive the Japanese conditions. The Russian government has communicated to the administration at Washington its consent to the publication of its reply to President Roosevelt's appeal, at the same time thanking the president for the friendly and lofty spirit in which it was conceived. The Associated Press is now able to give additional interesting details of the extraordinary council presided over by the emperor, which met recently at Tsarskos Selo and at which the practical, although not official decision was taken to terminate the war if the conditions were not too onerous. Besides the older male members of the imperial family, all the cabinet ministers were present, besides General Fredericks Master of Ceremonies Prince Dolgoruki, Count Solsky, Baron Besse and members of the imperial entourge. General Dragomiroff and Vice Admiral Doubassoff were there as strategic experts of the army and navy. With Grand Dukes Vladimir and Alexander Michaelovitch, as leaders, all the members of the imperial family expect lishing a republic, which, it is known, Nicholas Nicholavitch favored an attempt to conclude peace. Only General Sakharoff, the minister of war, and General Libko, ties in Denmark and Sweden, however, it from among the ministers, hold out for prosecution of the war. The former displayed a telegram from General Linevitch, reportthis reason King Oscar may consent to apgood and expressing not only confidence in way. William, who is a year younger than his ability to defeat the enemy, but even to assume the offensive. General Sakharoff's argument, however, was easily outweighed by the considerations presented by the other ministers.

> Probable Attitude of Japan. There was a wide divergence of opinion as to whether Japan would attempt to impose impossible terms, but the concensus of opinion was that Japan is too wise to desire now to humble its gigantic neighbor and force conditions which would forever rankle in the heart of Russia and only make peace an armed truce till the Russian empire could make further preparations. An enduring peace, it was agreed, was impossible if Japan tried to force upon Russia humiliating terms such as the surrender and disarmament of Vladivostok and the absolute limitation of Russia's naval strength in the Pacific. The ground, therefore, already was prepared for the reception of President Roosevelt's message, which was conveyed to the emperor by Ambassador Meyer personally the following day, and his majesty accepted it cordially, especially as he had good reason to believe that the president had taken pains to disabuse his majesty of any idea that the United States was unfriendly to Russia or desired to see it destroyed as a

A formal truce is expected to be proclaimed immediately the place of meeting of the plenipotentiaries has been settled upon. The Associated Press hears from the highest sources commendation of the president's action, and if it results in satisfactory terms it is bound to have a tendency to restore the relations between the United States and Russia to something like the old friendly basis. It is understood that the emperor has agreed to receive the Moscow deputation on Tuesday next if M. Petrunkevich, who is personally obnoxious to his majesty, withdraws. M. Petrunkevich's activity over the zemstvo resulted in his exile by clety of Moscow he has continued his crusade against the government, making addresses in the rural districts of a revolutionary order, for which acts the imperial patronage was withdrawn from the society. The elevation of General Trepoff, which has revived "the third section" with prac-Plymouth-Arrived: St. Paul, from tically limitless power for the supression of political agitation, will be followed, it is understood, by the abolition of the office
